All the best,

The People of GIA Publications, Inc.

How to Use this Catalog

Please order by catalog number whenever possible. This will help us to hand your order quickly and efficiently.

A maximum amount of information is contained in a minimum amount of space/ Therefore, it is important that the user acquaint him/herself with a number of abbreviations and codes in the vocal music listing.

Acc. means a keyboard accompaniment playable on piano or organ.

The number and letter in parentheses just before the price of each edition, e.g., (3-E), indicates the number of actual pages of music in the piece, and the difficulty according to Easy, Medium, and Difficult: E, M, or D.

A heavy dot • indicates that both a printed music edition and a recording is available. See the list of recordings and the vocal music listing.

C/C/S indicates that the edition is from the Cantor/ Congregation Series.

The various movements included in Mass settings are abbreviated as follows

En	=	Entrance Song	Ho	=	Sanctus (Holy)
K	=	Kyrie/Penitential Rite	Ac	=	Memorial Acclamation
S	=	Sprinkling Rite	Am	=	Amen
Tr	=	Trisagion	Lp	=	Lord's Prayer
G	=	Gloria	La	=	Lamb of God
Ps	=	Psalm	CP	=	Christ Our Passover
Al	=	Alleluia	Co	=	Communion Song
Cr	=	Creed	Me	=	Communion Meditation
In	=	Intercessions	Fc	=	Final Commendation
PG	=	Presentation of Gifts	Cl	=	Closing Song

EARLY CHILDHOOD MUSIC

First Steps in Classical Music: Keeping the Beat! from Corelli to Kabalevsky

Compiled by John M. Feierabend

Go ahead...try to sit still...you're going to be moved by this music! A great survey of classical music, the selections presented here are in historical order from the seventeenth to the twentieth century and include major and minor tonalities as well as duple and triple meters.

Contains 36 selections, featuring great performances of works by Corelli, Vivaldi, Bach, Handel, Locatelli, Mozart, Gounod, Offenbach, Brahms, Tchaikovsky, Respighi, Kodály, Stravinsky, Prokofiev, Copland, and Kabalevsky. Includes more than 75 minutes of music! The booklet includes movement activities to accompany the music.

Three recordings of classic folk songs and rhymes for birth to 36 months

Performed by Luann Saunders and John Feierabend

It's all here: bounces, lullabies, songs for tickling and wiggling...music and rhymes from Feierabend's wonderful early childhood books! Each CD combines the very best for each age group from all five books (see page 8)...more than 60 selections on each recording, complete with a fully illustrated booklet of lyrics and any special directions. All songs are performed with only one voice, guitar, and string bass, following John M. Feierabend's philosophy that simplicity in musical accompaniment makes it easier for children to focus on the important melody of the song. With this collection, John M. Feierabend and Luann Saunders present a simple way to make a connection between adult and child and develop a child's imagination, as well as enjoy a wonderful playtime together.

EARLY CHILDHOOD MUSIC

Winner of the Parent's Guide to Children's Media 2000 Award!

Beautiful illustrated collections of classic songs and rhymes for young children (0–36 mos.)

Compiled by John M. Feierabend

For generations, the songs and rhymes of American folk culture have delighted children, creating a “hushed wonder” at playtime. No fireworks, no crazy musical arrangements, just adult and child connecting with rhymes and music. These treasures once were passed from parent or grandparent to child, yet in recent years, with changes in technology and family structure, they have been in danger of being lost and forgotten.

A new series of books by John M. Feierabend brings back this music and poetry of America! The Book of Wiggles and Ticks, The Book of Bounces, The Book of Lullabies, The Book of Simple Songs and Circles, and The Book of Tapping and Clapping are filled with the type of educational play parents and teachers crave! Rhymes, songs, and games bring our heritage to the newest generation by connecting them to a rich repertoire of folk music while building their musical sensibilities, which can help in their appreciation and understanding of music later in life! Each collectible book is also delightfully illustrated to enhance the activities.

Feierabend, an early childhood music specialist and professor at The Hartt School of Music, has spent decades compiling songs and rhymes that our parents and grandparents sang to us when we were children. In the same vein as classics like “This little piggy...” and “Where is Thumbkin...,” the high-quality children’s literature in these books has withstood the test of time, inspiring wonder, joy, and laughter in infants and toddlers for well over a hundred years!

MUSIC PLAY

Wendy H. Valerio, Alison M. Reynolds, Beth M. Bolton, Cynthia C. Taggart, and Edwin E. Gordon

Music Play: The Early Childhood Music Curriculum, Guide for Parents, Teachers, and Care-givers is an innovative, complete full-color book and CD resource for early childhood music classes.

Children are naturally fascinated with sound and movement play as they teach themselves how to function in the world. Moreover, each child born on this earth has the potential to learn music. Without early, sequential music development guidance, however, the potential for true music understanding and enjoyment is left underdeveloped in most children.

This developmentally appropriate music series is based on the groundbreaking book A Music Learning Theory for Newborn and Young Children (Edwin E. Gordon, GIA Publications, Inc., 1997, G-3487, $24.00 on page 71) as well as years of practical and experimental research. Music Play is designed to assist teachers, parents, and caregivers of newborn and young children in the development of basic music skills such as singing, rhythm chanting, and moving.

By using this compilation of music and movement activities, you will discover the pure delight of playing music and movement games with children. You will learn how to provide a rich music environment for them, how to listen to and understand the sounds they make, and how to reinforce each child's music and movement creativity through imitation and improvisation using audiation (the ability each of us has to think music). Consequently, you will lay the foundation for a lifetime of music and movement participation, understanding, and enjoyment for the children in your care.

The Music Play Guide includes 57 songs and rhythm chants in a variety of tonalities and meters and over 200 music and movement activities designed to assist you in organizing sequential music and movement experiences for newborn and young children. Each of the songs and rhythm chants found in the Guide is recorded on the accompanying compact disc or cassette.

The beautiful full-color book and CD set includes photos of children engaged in music activities. The book includes notation and lesson plans adapted to the individual needs of each child, as well as a complete introduction to how young children learn when they learn music.

Conversational Solfege

John M. Feierabend

New!
Classical Selections
CDs Now Available!

Conversational Solfege is a dynamic and captivating first-through-eighth grade general music program that enables students to become independent musical thinkers with the help of a rich variety of folk and classical music.

With the Conversational Solfege approach, music literacy starts with great literature and an “ear-before-eye” philosophy that correlates with the National Standards. Great songs are broken down into their component parts and then reassembled so that students can bring greater musical understanding to everything they do.

The ultimate goal is to create fully engaged, independent musicians who can hear, understand, read, write, compose, and improvise.

The Teacher's Manual is packed with tone and rhythm card games, duplicating templates, and engaging teaching techniques that make learning and participating a blast—and non-threatening.

Level 1 teacher's and student's components have been completely redesigned to make using this program even more engaging. Also new to the GIA edition is an extensive assessment section by Dr. Clark Saunders, which will enable you to more completely track the progress of each student.

Central to the Conversational Solfege program is the use of music harvested from our rich and diverse American musical history. This variety of music serves as a common thread that spans and bonds generations. Each book contains varied song material so the teacher can select appropriate music for the lower grades or older beginners.

This 12-step teaching method carefully brings students from readiness to, ultimately, create music through inner hearing and then transferring their musical thoughts into notation—in other words, to compose music!

This series is a complete, innovative approach to teaching music that will stay fresh year after year.

John M. Feierabend is director of the music education program at The Hartt School of Music, University of Hartford, Connecticut.

This book and CD set combines the latest research in music learning theory in a revised book that is more practical and easier to use than ever before!

The revision now includes the best elements of the original Book 1 and Ensemble Book—together in one volume. While this series maintains its unique approach of teaching all songs "by ear" before learning notation, the revision does contain music notation and ensemble arrangements of every song.

Students learn new concepts by making musical comparisons. For example, students learn the difference between connected and separated styles of articulation, duple and triple meter, even major vs. minor songs—right from the start.

All the songs and activities are carefully sequenced based on the latest information we have on how children learn music, developed and fine-tuned over many years by Richard F. Grunow and Christopher D. Azzara, and based on the pioneering research of Edwin E. Gordon.

Assessing the Developing Child Musician: A Guide for General Music Teachers

Timothy S. Brophy

General music teachers have long struggled with the issue of how to accurately and objectively assess the progress of their students. With this practical and much-needed book, Timothy S. Brophy, Ph.D., a rising leader in the music education field, tackles the issue head-on, giving practical insights and providing excellent practical suggestions and samples.

From the foundations of assessment through development considerations, to assessing each child as a performing, creating, and critically thinking/responding musician, Brophy brings clear, in-depth explanations to the task, followed by easily referenced Chapter Summaries, Questions for Clarification, Questions for Discussion, Assessment Practice, as well as suggestions on developing scoring guides and assessment tasks. Music portfolios and profiles are also given ample attention, with real student samples included at the end of the book.

Assessing the Developing Child Musician leads general music specialists through every step necessary to develop their own personal style of assessing students while working within the guidelines of local district standards and curriculum, state and national standards, varying educational philosophies, and the school's adopted music series.

GENERAL INTEREST

The Musician's Spirit

James Jordan

In The Musician's Soul, author James Jordan set readers on a journey beyond the precise techniques of artistry and into a place of self-exploration, where music could be created with a new heartfelt honesty and beauty. With The Musician's Spirit, a companion book to The Musician's Soul, Jordan takes us to the next level of creating a more powerful art form.

The Musician's Spirit focuses not on the self, but on others and the stories each artist is able to share through his or her work. Using thought-provoking quotations, real-life stories, and visual art, Jordan challenges all artists to share themselves with their audience and fellow artists, thereby creating a more personal and beautiful body of work.

This book offers practical and inspirational words on courage and vision, the arts of listening and trust, conquering the fear of looking foolish, and the importance of story in teaching. Jordan also includes a "Storying Guide" to help the reader bring out his or her own story as well as space for personal notes, stories, and reflections.

Though written with musicians in mind, this beautiful, illustrated book offers tremendous insight for any artist wanting to share his or her vision and story with the world.

To be released in Summer 2002.

The Musician's Soul

James Jordan

Beyond the precise techniques of music-making lies the uncertain and often untapped world of artistic self-expression and soulful spirituality. James Jordan's The Musician's Soul starts all musicians on a journey to that higher plane.

Jordan offers words of wisdom and encouragement based on his own journey as a conductor, yet these writings are pertinent to all musicians, perhaps to any creative being.

Filled with inspiring, thought-provoking quotations, life experiences, and ideas, this book will encourage you to explore your inner self by creating openness and vulnerability, finding your center, and discovering the importance of solitude as well as community. The result will be a new, heartfelt honesty and beauty in your music.

Look beyond the mechanics of technique into the soul of music, creating a new, inspired voice.

James Jordan is one of America's most respected choral conductors and educators, currently serving as associate professor of conducting at Westminster Choir College of Rider University. He is also conductor of the Westminster Chapel Choir and author of Evoking Sound, a conducting textbook (see page 64).

GENERAL INTEREST

PATHWAYS: A guide for energizing and enriching band, orchestra, and choral programs

by Joseph Alsobrook

Year after year, music teachers face the same challenges running an effective school music program: to motivate students to grow as musicians, and simply to keep them in the program!

Pathways is an unforgettable, insightful, and practical book that addresses such challenges. Musician and teacher Joseph Alsobrook explains how to meet the indispensable needs of music students while simultaneously enjoying a rewarding and meaningful career as a music educator.

Combining the wisdom of multiple great minds, this book is divided into five major sections, each full of hands-on suggestions, and each targeting an "essential gift" that all students need to receive. These gifts are the pathways that lead to musical and personal enrichment for students and teachers alike.

Far from another "tricks of the trade" manual, Pathways is a unique collection of practical and creative options that will help you to set the mental, physical, and emotional stages for truly exceptional teaching and learning experiences, and an inspirational resource for anyone committed to elevating student achievement.

Joseph Alsobrook is an active music educator in Oklahoma. He currently teaches band at Union High School in Tulsa.

Teaching Music through Performance in Orchestra

by Michael Allen, Louis Bergonzi, Jacquelyn Dillon, Robert Gillespie, James Kjelland, Dorothy Straub, Laura Reed Racine, David Littrell

Written, researched and compiled by scholars with a wealth of teaching experience, Teaching Music through Performance in Orchestra is a one-of-a-kind, indispensable resource that allows educators to lead students beyond the notes on the printed page toward total musical awareness and understanding! As a reference guide or a college-level text, Teaching Music through Performance in Orchestra is an ideal tool for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of their music repertoire.

Part I of this valuable guide offers "words of wisdom" from six successful orchestra teachers with over 150 years of experience among them. Each gives practical advice on subjects ranging from producing well-rounded musicians, rehearsal suggestions, and preparing for festivals to selecting high-quality music and the impact of national standards on teaching.

Part II contains a nuts-and-bolts analysis of 100 of the most significant works for strings and full orchestra, grades one through six. Researched and compiled by scholarly musicians and teachers across the country, this section gives important information on each musical selection, including composer and composition information, historical background, technical requirements, stylistic considerations, musical elements (form and structure), suggestions for additional listening and a guide to selected references.

Teaching Music through Performance in Band, Vol. 1

By Larry Blocher, Eugene Migliaro Corporon, Ray Cramer, Tim Lautzenheiser, Edward S. Lisk, Richard Miles, and Jack Stamp; compiled and edited by Richard Miles

This is the book that broke new ground with its theoretical, practical, and analytical information for band directors seeking to help their students.

Divided into three sections, Part I examines the various theoretical aspects for the band director, including music selection, the student learning process in band, rehearsal design, and student assessment in band. Part II offers practical suggestions for the band director in teaching music during rehearsal, building a band curriculum, and structuring for teacher, student, and program success.

Part III, the "nuts-and-bolts" Teacher Resource Guides, contains analyses of the 100 best-known and respected band compositions, Grades 2–6. Included for each musical selection is information about the composer, the composition, historical background, technical requirements, stylistic considerations, important musical elements including form and structure, suggestions for additional listening, and a guide to selected references. This book is an essential resource for band directors at all levels and a major contribution to the field. G-4484 Volume 1, 500 pages, hardcover

Do It! Play in Band A Beginning Band Method

James O. Froseth

Contributing editors: Marguerite Wilder and Molly A. Weaver

Co-author, Percussion: Steve Houghton

complete CD just $6.95!

This major new band method by James O. Froseth has it all:

- Artist performers set musical standards in sound with more than 80 great performances on CD for every instrument!
- Professional studio backgrounds capture the rich diversity of American music culture with a repertoire of American, Latin American, African, European, and Far Eastern styles.
- Music of other times includes 12th-century conductus, 15th-century Dance of the Bouffons, 16th-century French branle, 18th- and 19th-century folk songs and dances, 1940s and '50s jazz, blues, and rock-and-roll.
- The repertoire and recorded contexts are motivating, informative, and entirely musical.
- Every song includes text, providing information about phrasing, rhythm, style, affect, emotion, history, and culture.
- A unique Rhythmic Pattern Dictionary allows students to “look it up” and “listen up.”
- An individualized format allows students to progress at different rates with a “theme and variation” format.
- Ear training and improvisation are integral parts of the lesson format.
- A 550+ page teacher's resource edition and musical score provides options galore, including a double CD with “listen and play” exercises for group instruction, supplementary exercises for technical development, and resource material for improvisation and composition. All the resources needed for teaching to the National Standards for Music. (Coordinates with rhythm flashcards—see page 23.)
- Book 2 features innovative but optional use of world percussion instruments, as developed by percussion educator Steve Houghton.

Evoking Sound: Body Mapping Principles and Basic Conducting Technique

VIDEO with James Jordan and Heather Buchanan

Taking James Jordan's choral conducting book Evoking Sound to the next level, this video is a self-tutorial that demonstrates and enhances the basic conducting principles discussed in the book. This insightful presentation includes an overview of fundamental Body Mapping based upon the Alexander Technique as applied to choral conducting, as well as tutorials on breathing and basic conducting patterns. Whether you're studying conducting for the first time or looking for a refresher course, this enlightening video provides invaluable insight into basic conducting technique.

James Jordan is one of America's most respected choral conductors and educators. He is Associate Professor of Conducting at Westminster Choir College of Rider University, where he is also conductor of the Westminster Chapel Choir. He has published three books with GIA Publications, Inc.: Evoking Sound, The Musician's Soul, and Choral Ensemble Intonation.

Heather Buchanan is a visiting Assistant Professor of Conducting at Westminster Choir College of Rider University, where she is conductor of the Westminster Schola Cantorum. A native of Australia, she has extensive experience as a music educator and conductor. She is a specialist concerning the use of Body Mapping as applied to conducting.

Evoking Sound James Jordan

Evoking Sound takes a fresh look at the critical link in the choir: the conductor. And it starts from the very first breath.

The importance of such a ground-zero approach is fundamental—before one can conduct, one must inspire those being conducted. Only then can the desired end result—a performance that lives up to its full potential—be achieved.

Evoking Sound introduces the subtle but important premusical factors that determine a choir's performance. These include the conductor's stance, breathing, and movement.

You'll come away from Evoking Sound feeling a renewed sense of the totality of the conducting endeavor, as well as a grasp of how to better evoke sound from many, unique human instruments.

Structures and Movement of Breathing

A Primer for Choirs and Choruses

Barbara Conable, Foreword by James Jordan

This enlightening handbook is designed to provide choir members clear and concise information about their breathing so that they may sing with optimal enjoyment and beauty. Featuring dozens of detailed illustrations and explanations, this book is a crucial tool to anyone on a quest for phenomenal sound. Crucial to this quest is understanding how our own bodies work to produce sound through a technique known as Body Mapping. This handbook is perfect for use during choir warm-ups and rehearsals.
